

Message from the Mayor

Mufi Hannemann, Mayor
City and County of Honolulu

It was another banner year for the City and County of Honolulu as we continued to focus on our priorities: public safety, sewers, roads and transportation, parks and public facilities, and solid waste.

We have committed money to replace our aging fleet of fire engines and police cars, as well as repair fire houses and police stations. In keeping with our past capital improvement needs, we expect to spend $1.5 billion over the next six years on sewer and wastewater improvements. We are rehabilitating our roads and improving safety for motorists and pedestrians on our streets. The fixed guideway plan was approved this fiscal year, representing hope for congestion-weary motorists. Our parks and public facilities are being repaired and maintained, if not upgraded. And we have made great strides in managing our solid waste.

Of course, none of these accomplishments—as recorded on the pages to follow—would have been possible without the dedication and hard work of an exceptional team of City employees. This report is a testament to their professionalism and pride in their work, and their aloha for the people of the City and County of Honolulu.
